Autry Names December Students of the Month

ENID, Okla. – Autry Technology Center has named three students as the December Students of the Month. These students were selected based on their performance in and out of the classroom as students, role models and future professionals.

Evan Chermack is a second-year adult student in the Construction Technology program at Autry Technology Center. He graduated from Enid High School in 2015 and utilized the Autry Tuition Scholarship to help with his continuing education. Evan competed in the regional and state SkillsUSA Cabinetmaking contest last year, receiving 2nd place honors at state. He also competed in the regional and state Extemporaneous Speaking contests. He is currently working for a local contractor in the construction field. After completing the Construction program in May 2019, Evan plans to work for a local cabinet shop and would eventually like to own his own business.

“Evan is one of my go to students,” said Jeff Clark, Construction Technology instructor. “He is always willing to jump in and help with anything that I ask of him. He is always a positive influence for my other students and has enough quirkiness to keep it interesting. Evan has pushed himself to learn a solid foundation in construction and is more than eager to share it and to help other students learn the concepts.”

Vanessa Gonzalez is a second-year high school student in the Business Management and Entrepreneurship program with a focus on Medical Office at Autry Technology Center. She is also a senior at Enid High School. Vanessa serves as an Autry Professional Representative and is involved with BPA. After high school graduation, she plans to utilize the Autry Tuition Scholarship and return to Autry to complete the Clinical Medical Assisting program at Autry.

“Vanessa works extremely hard in class,” said Tera Davis, Business Management and Entrepreneurship instructor. “Any time you see Vanessa, she has a smile on her face. She is always kind and has a positive attitude. She is very willing to help her instructors and other students.”

Wyatt Mayer is a first-year high school student in the Health Careers program at Autry Technology Center. He is also a junior at Cimarron High School where he plays trumpet for the Marching Band, Pep Band and Concert Band. Wyatt assisted his instructor with a demonstration of a 3D anatomy computer program for an on campus event for K12 teachers. His future plans include becoming a pharmacist.

“Wyatt is such a polite young man,” said Lois McCullough, Health Careers instructor. “He is very respectful and does what is asked of him in class. He is very smart being at the top of his class with his grades.”

Autry Technology Center has been a part of the Enid community since 1967 and is one of 29 CareerTech schools across Oklahoma. The center has more than 25 career programs and offers a wide variety of evening and weekend short-term courses and certifications for many diverse career fields. Autry serves nearly 16,000 individuals each year, including many area employees who receive training through the Business and Industry Services Department that works with over 500 local businesses each year.
