NWOK Women's Business Summit Set for July 18

ENID, OKLA. —— The NWOK Women's Business Summit is scheduled for Thursday, July 18, 2019 at Autry Technology Center. This one-day event is designed to encourage, support and equip women in business throughout Northwest Oklahoma.

The event is put on by Autry Technology Center, The Strate Center for Business Development, Enid Regional Development Alliance, Main Street Enid, Northern Oklahoma College and REI's Women's Business Center.

"With the success of the summit last year, it was inevitable we would bring it back annually," said Cari Forrest, event organizer. "Enid Women in Business is excited to share a day of professional development and networking with NW Oklahoma."

The event starts at 8 a.m. and will conclude by 4 p.m. The early bird registration fee is $30 and is available through June 30. Registration goes up to $40 following June 30. The registration fee includes breakfast, lunch, two keynote speakers and a.m. and p.m. breakout sessions. Tickets can be purchased online at www.enidwib.com.

Keynote speakers for the event include Major General Rita Aragon and Eric Benson. Breakout session speakers include Donna Melchert, Martie Oyler, Joel Parker and Kelly Tompkins. Breakfast and lunch are provided by Catering Foodies.

For more information about the NWOK Women's Business Summit, visit http://www.enidwib.com or call 580.242.2750.

Autry Technology Center has been a part of the Enid community since 1967 and is one of 29 CareerTech schools across Oklahoma. The center has more than 25 career programs and offers a wide variety of evening and weekend short-term courses and certifications for many diverse career fields. Autry serves nearly 16,000 individuals each year, including many area employees who receive training through the Business and Industry Services Department that works with over 500 local businesses each year.
