Autry Technology Center to Offer CDL Truck Driver Training in Partnership with Central Tech

ENID, Okla. – Autry Technology Center is set to offer CDL Truck Driver Training in Enid, Okla., in partnership with Central Tech. With the high demand for truck drivers, Autry Tech will serve as a satellite training location with Central Tech’s existing training program.

Autry Tech’s first CDL – Truck Driver Training Class A course begins Nov. 8, 2021, with training Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Another course is scheduled to begin Jan. 12, 2022.

The Central Tech Truck Driver Training course is the only course in Oklahoma to be PTDI-certified, meeting stringent skill, curriculum and course/program standards. The program utilizes classroom instruction, range and road driving, as well as practical application of skills used in highway driving. After 23 days of training, students will be prepared to join the trucking industry.

Upon successful completion of the class/exams and having met all requirements, students earn:

- Commercial Driver’s License (CDL)
- Central Tech Truck Driver Training certificate of completion
- PTDI seal of attainment indicating completion of all standards
